

Youth suicide and bullying: challenges and strategies for prevention and intervention

Youth bullying is strong risk factor for depression, suicidal ideation, and suicidal behavior. Certain populations (e.g., students with disabilities, sexual minorities) are at a heightened risk of bullying and suicidality. This presentation will discuss what we know about bullying and suicidal behaviors and will describe several evidence-based suicide prevention programs.