Federal regulations recently made a significant change to the number of patients qualified buprenorphine prescribers can treat. Now what?

Whether you have already received a waiver to prescribe to 100 patients, or you are just getting started in the process of obtaining a waiver to prescribe, you need to know how to navigate this exciting development.

This session will provide an overview of the new regulation, address the qualifications necessary to be approved for the higher patient limit, explain new reporting requirements, and define a “qualified practice setting”.

Registrants are encouraged to submit questions in advance by emailing them to pcssmat@psych.org. Dr. Lee will respond to as many of them as possible during her presentation.
